

PREACHING No.13: ON ISLAM

[...] Islam will also receive its share of truth according to what God decreed in Mark 13:35. For four years I had a Muslim family as guardian. They treated me so well that I have as a debt to pay them. In four years of tutelage, they never wanted to accept a centime from my parents ... They are sons of God as much as you and me but God put them aside in the chains of Islam for a time. The world's attitude towards muslims and Arabs was the same attitude it had towards the Jews during the reign of Hitler. The day is coming when God will call them my people ... I'm against the religion, not people. You see? Islam is the perfect image of catholicism as the left hand and right hand.

Well, now, but I would like however to give an idea of Islam, this bloodthirsty and diabolical religion which must keep captive a people until the appointed time to kneel then before its own sons in the name of Jesus Christ. And I say it under the virtue of the mission I have received. Word of prophet. The time of its judgment is coming!

Before the birth of Islam, the Arabs used to worship many gods of which Allah, the sky goddess whose symbol was the moon, and Al'ozza, the morning star. You can easily understand the symbols of the moon and star. In the same way Rome christianized pagan and roman gods and festivals, that is how the pagan gods and feasts of Arabia Saudi have been islamized. The sacred words that muslims pronounce before speaking are a practice of the Kâhins, Arabic soothsayers. Mohammed did not look far. Islam is, in part, a mere man-made from faith objects already existing. These gods were represented in the sky by stars and on the earth by stones gathered in the Ka'ba [= stone] in Mecca.

Each year, there was a big event: the haj during which pilgrims from everywhere would go seven times round these stones and which led them to Mount Arafah. It's in January 622 that Mohammed supported by an army of three thousand men enters the Mecca, overthrew the idols of the Ka'ba and lets one which might be the seat of Abraham, Ishmael and Hagar subsist.

Mohammed himself was born in around 571. His father Abdullah died before his birth, his mother Amina put him in a tribe of Bedouins and died after having taken him back. He was taken back by his paternal grandfather who died when he was eight. It was then his uncle Abu Talib, who raised him up. I really felt compassion for this childhood which lacked both the maternal and paternal warmth ... He became a shepherd with his foster brother. North of Mecca, he heard of Moses and Jesus. But he was not able to have the Torah (the five books of Moses). Later, Khadija, a rich Jewish widow whose caravan he drove and who became his wife offered these rolls to him. Khadija's parents opposed that marriage which took place however. He was 24 and she, 40. After the death of this one, Mohammed took nine legitimate wives and concubines of whom the most beloved was Aisha the daughter of his friend Abu Bakr, who will be the first caliph, vicar after Mohammed. He feared Khadija but when she died, he revealed what he was. Around 612 retired for a meditation, he was sleeping in a cave of Mount Hira and he had a dream. The angel Djibril that is not the Archangel Gabriel of the Bible, came to him and asks him to read in a roll. Mohammed told him: "I cannot read!". When he awoke, he got the impression that a book had descended in his heart, this is the reality of Maouloud. The Koran did not literally descend from heaven as people insinuate it. After exiting the cave, he sees the same huge angel, filling the horizon and greets him saying: "Hi, messenger of Allah." During his life, through trances and groanings, he receives and speaks as by prophecies, words that were first learnt by heart and then transcribed onto the shoulder blades and sheep's skins and onto papyrus. Remember that a part of those inspirations is not contained in the Koran while they are direct inspiration of Mohammed himself. It is the Caliph Othman, who established a "vulgate" from the text of Zayd bin Thabit reviewed by a committee. Caliph Othman after him and before him up to this committee through Zayd bin Thabit, the texts have undergone extensive tidying up which rooted out the mysterious verses which were received by Mohammed himself. In fact, it was question of formulas and incantations being able to cause supernatural actions and appearances. Being able to cause positive or negative actions upon nature or people. After the various pieces of work, all the rest of the writings was systematically destroyed. All those things, even the Sirat al Rasul, his first biography does not mention them. You see? To get in the spirit, he was shaken by the too strong presence of unction. And I predict that the world will end with a charismatic Islam. That will happen some day or another on earth ... Sincerely, Mohammed repeatedly doubted that spirit but Khadija encouraged him. She influenced him too much otherwise he would have repented publicly!

Everything that has been the subject of a piece of work of a committee is diabolical: as the Koran, we have catholics' Tob bible, the Ostervald, King James, Martin, Louis Segond, protestants and evangelicals' bibles... Mohammed repeatedly had crisis that made him faint and he thought himself that it was madness. All historians relate that. On September 24,622, Mohammed fled to Medina and established himself as the sovereign pontiff and set up there a theocratic society merging with the political, military, economic and religious life that Islam still retains. Before Islam, Jewish settlements were already in Yathrib, Khaibar and the oases in the north of Mecca. Wishing to have the Jews, he asks the muslims to turn towards Jerusalem during the prayer and also to observe the Kippur fasting [great forgiveness] as Jews. Fasting, which stretched over a day of 25 hours during which confessions are public for hours as it is said in Neh.9:1-3. On that day, Jews confessed their sins as we do it here during a quarter of a day! No a quarter of an hour but a quarter of a day, ones after the others! ... And then speaking of Mohammed, some Jews thought he was the Comforter promised to nations. The Jews called him, questioned him and saw that he was a seducer. When Mohammed saw that he had failed, he took up arms and massacred the Jews and asked the muslims to turn henceforth towards Mecca during the prayer and transformed the Kippur fasting into Ramadan. And he began to contradict Moses, Jesus and the Bible. Important details that are not in the Sirat al Rasul, his first biography. It is said nowhere that Mohammed sought sanctification if it is not the same brutal, animal and bloodthirsty behavior that his followers keep. The greatest weakness of Mohammed was sex. Fornication and adultery have accompanied him until death, and what would it be today when women are so beautiful? When he took a second, he did not stand and he took a 3rd one he did not stand and he took a 4th, 5th, 6th one... And mistresses and concubines until he becomes ill and dies.

But that Mohammed has more morality than Osborn and most of pastors because despite that way of living and despite the fact that he had no support but the five books of Moses, he did not admit female imam.

And not all of them but some among them, despite the five daily prayers, they can, just got out of the mosque, seize someone and slaughter him like an animal. However, in the beginning, in their conquest of the earth, they feared to attack Christians, more intransigent and more direct than the Jews in their truth. And it's by weapons that a part of the earth has been subjected to this religion for a while. And by choosing Friday as a holy day, we know what that means. All mystical orders, fetish priests, ... have Friday as favorable day. Jesus was crucified on a Friday. And we know that Allah is an angel of Satan.

It is with love that I said all these things for, Muslims are a people that God will visit some day. That's why I have not talked much of them. The walls of Islam will fall on a day like the wall of Berlin and of the communism. The time comes when a son of Islam will stand on the basis of this Message and will be the torchbearer of his generation like me and will preach to the whole world in the name of the Christian's God. In that time, those who will believe, will burn their rosaries, the hadiths and Korans and the great and last persecution against the Church will come. In the name of Jesus Christ, Christianity will infiltrate and crush Islam down as the wall of Berlin and it's at that time that real persecution will begin and it will be so and it's because of that hour that God has let subsist and given a lot of fame to a book called "The holy Koran".
